

Cocktail Hour

with Amy Roth

Cheers!

Hi, I'm Amy Roth, a commercial food & beverage photographer who finds beauty in even the most humble ingredients and always strives to make a photograph as visually delicious as its real-life counterpart. My images are fresh and compelling, and get to the heart of why we're all so obsessed with food & drink in the first place.

With a pre-photography background in graphic design and art direction, I can shepherd your idea to completion or work with you to develop a concept that'll target the right people with your images.

iSalud!

testimonials

“As a photographer, Amy is that rare artist who can transform the simple into extraordinary—the everyday into timeless perfection worthy of any gallery let alone pages of a book. With a keen eye and innate creativity, Amy produces images that are iconic right out of the gate, classic yet contemporary, and stand the test of time. From our first cookbook project onward, it has been an honor to work with her.” — John Schlimm, author, Moonshine and The Cheesy Vegan

“With a keen eye for detail and lighting, Amy’s photography seems to come alive on the page. Vibrant, colorful, each shot captures the essence of what a chef is trying to convey. Easy to work with, knowledgeable on so many different culinary topics, and always welcomed by chefs and restaurants, having Amy involved with my cookbook was a fantastic experience that I hope to repeat many more times in the future.” — John Holl, author, Dishing Up New Jersey

“Amy’s attention to detail and photography skill is second to none. Not only is she an amazing photographer with a gift for lighting, but a diligent, hard worker and organized business woman. I would recommend her to anyone in a heartbeat.”
— Darcie Hunter, food stylist

“Amy is both professional and fun to work with. She’s communicative, super-organized and completed our project ahead of schedule. She was able to help us photograph a wide variety of products in a consistent manner, which is not easy to do! Amy also has a great eye for color and for arranging things “just so” to bring out the best of what we were photographing. I wish we had more time to complete all the ideas she suggested!” — Stephanie Lachowicz — Art Director, Nuts.com

Cin cin!

Skål!

Crafting a fine cocktail or bottle of spirits is both a labor of love and an art form. Photographing it should be the same, because a cocktail isn't just any old drink — it's a mood and an experience to be savored. It's a deep sigh of relief at the end of an impossible day, reuniting with old friends, celebrating a long-awaited (post-pandemic) evening out, and so much more — your photography should reflect that.

work with me

You can find more of my work at amyrothphoto.com. If you like what you see, get the party started by contacting me at info@amyrothphoto.com.

I'd love to work with you and craft a shoot every bit as exquisite as the subject of your photos.

Kanpai!